

Our Rugs are among the finest made in Teotitlan del Valle Oaxaca. We use all wool, Natural dyes, and all are hand loomed.

We are proud of our rugs because of the quality we put into them. We use finely spun yarn which has a great deal of strength. We weave many weft threads per inch making a thick tough fabric. This means the rugs will wear well for a long time. The density of the weave is important in a rug. Using loosely spun wool and fewer threads per inch makes a loosely woven rug which will not wear as well.

Because we use all natural dyes, the colors in our rugs are often subtle, not brazen. Different and some more brilliant colors can be obtained using synthetic dyes. But we choose to keep to our tradition and use natural dyes.

Our designs are mostly those from this part of Mexico, frequently from things in our Zapotec Culture. For example, the use of a repeat of four in a design is from our belief in the four point of the universe and the corresponding points in our bodies.

If you wish you can special order a rug, choose size and colors and choose from among our design patterns or create your own.

A rug you buy from us will be simple to take care of. Because it will be densely woven and because the wool has not been highly processed, it will have some natural resistance to spills because of the natural oils remaining. Liquids can be blotted from the surface quickly and easily. To clean, fold in thirds. Use a mild unscented soap. Wet one third, brush with suds, rinse lightly. In the same manner, the other two thirds. then immerse in clear water and swish away the soap. If you haven't a tub or such large enough, lay on a clean surface, as on a patio, and flush the suds away with water. A hose is useful. Hang in the shade to dry.

Your fine rug will last for years, giving you pleasure.
